LOCAL HERALDINGS.

—Wm. Bissell is prepared to place a few small desirable farm loans.
—Albert H. Shepley, of Logan made the HERALD a call Wednesday.

—J. H. Laird writes from Eldon, Iowa, that his family are all well.
—T. G. Larkin made the HERALD folks a call last Saturday. Come again.

—Bottom knocked out of prices of everything at the Cheap Cash Store of John Hillstead, Marvin, Kan. 46
—CHAS. R. MUMFORD, Newton, Kansas, State Agent for school seats, maps, globes &c. Agents wanted.

—A large span of mules for sale, with or without wagon and harness. Inquire at this office.

—John Hillstead did not sell his store but has knocked the bottom out of prices at his old stand at Marvin.

—The B. & M. R. R., known as the "Burlington Route" offers special advantages to travelers. See their advertisement in this paper.

—D. B. Bailey has been some days in the city. He has been somewhat out of health and looks as though he had been through a flint mill.

—Robert Fairbanks, an old acquaintance and army friend of L. F. Pickle, has been visiting in the county and thinks of moving here. He now lives at Rooks Center.

—We will send the Phillipsburg HERALD and any one of the following papers one year for $2 in advance: Topeka Capital, Topeka Commonwealth, Leavenworth Times or Kansas Farmer.

—I am prepared to make loans on Farms, Mills and good insurable Town Property. Those wishing to borrow money will do well to call on me.

WM. BISSELL.

—Eli Strain, of Salem, Indiana, a brother of Frank Strain, has been visiting his friends in this county for several days.

—The friends of Rev. B. R. Turner will give him a donation on Nov. 24th at the residence of Joseph Young. See announcement elsewhere.

—Notice is hereby given that the tax rolls of Phillips county are now in my hands for collection.

D. L. SMITH, County Treasurer.

—Elder B. R. Turner left on Tuesday evening for Emporia to attend the Congregational Association of Ministers who convene at that city this week.

—Messrs. David Cole, Wm. Cole, and Charles Cole and families, arrived at Marvin last week from West Va., expecting to make Kansas their future home.

—C. Brunner has moved his tin shop into the building on the south east corner of the public square, where he will be found hereafter by those needing a copper bottom (to their boiler or tea pot).

—The sociable held at J. W. Faden's, Thursday evening, was a splendid affair. All seemed to enjoy themselves hugely. It will be held next Thursday at the M. E. parsonage. All are invited.

—The HERALD is under obligations to B. B. Hubbard, of Walnut, for some choice specimens of sweet potatoes. They are as fine as we ever saw, and think Walnut township entitled to the belt for both Irish and sweet potatoes.

—Burton & VanBurskirk are still making Phillipsburg headwaters for their sheep business, having sold several thousand. They have several thousand yet to sell for cash or on time. Those wanting sheep will do well to call on them.

—H. J. Popejoy, of Greenwood, called on the HERALD yesterday. He reports the best crop this year he has ever raised and thinks Kansas will do so.

—Ed. Johnson is stopping at McCook, Nebraska, where he has ordered his paper sent for a while. He says that in a month's travel he has not found a better place for him than Phillips county.

—Capt. Wright, of this township, one of the oldest men in the county, if not the oldest, never fails to cast his vote at every election. Last Tuesday he walked up to the polls and cast a Republican vote without a scratch.

—Several slight errors occurred in publishing the Treasurer's Statement some two weeks ago. School district No. 2 has $26.49; No. 13, 15 and 16 has the funds to their credit set opposite their numbers. County papers please copy.

—Andrew J. Jones and H. C. Herding, of Sugar Loaf, Rooks county, were at the HERALD office on business Tuesday. Mr. Jones has purchased a farm of 320 acres on Bow Creek, on the north line of Rooks county, where he will make it his home.

—We noticed S. G. Pillsbury, of Granite, Dr. Burt, of Glenwood, and I. Isabel, of Greenwood, in the 'burg yesterday. Also Amos Ewell, of Marvin; Fred and Geo. Veeh, of Marvin; Thomas Trumble and J. M. Elston, of Rushville, and J. M. Crosier, of Arcade.

—Election day passed off quietly. Everybody seemed to know about what they wanted to do and marched up to the polls and deposited their ballots though it was nobody's business but their own. A large number voted the straight Republican ticket openly and wanted every other man to know it.

—Henry Vincent has traded his farms in Dayton township to Mr. Hodgins for the Hotel property in Marvin, where he now officiates as mine host. Henry's many friends will be glad to get trusted for a meal for old acquaintance sake. We understand that Mr. H. will build on his farm where he intends to make his home next spring.

—Died, Monday November 6th, on Plum Creek, Mrs. Wheeler, wife of Ed. Wheeler. Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler were among the first settlers in the county, having located on Plum Creek in the summer of 1873, where they have remained ever since, opening up one of the finest farms in Greenwood township, and has done much to develop the country. Mr. Wheeler has the sympathies of all in his affliction.

—Died, Sunday morning Nov. 6th, 1882, Myrta May Worley, daughter of Henry and Julia E. Worley, of Marvin, Kansas. Deceased was a bright little girl of eight years and her loss is sorely felt in the family circle as well as in the community. Her disease was typhoid pneumonia and we learn that several others of the family have suffered from the same disease, but it is now hoped that all are convalescent. Elder H. G. Broed preached the funeral sermon Sunday evening. The afflicted family have the sympathy of all.

—On the night of October 7th our safe was burglarized and some papers taken which may cause some trouble, but nothing the burglars could safely use. We did not, at the time, make it public for reasons best known to ourselves, but as a like burglary was committed Friday night in the store of D. A. Huling, in the lower room of our building, it is evident that we have the perpetrator in our midst, and it is well for our business men to be on their guard. It is hard to believe that in our quiet little community, we have such a character, yet facts are stubborn things and we have to take things as they are, and govern ourselves accordingly.

—In the Rushville and Walnut items, elsewhere in this issue, we found evidence of lawless cussedness that is by no means confined to those townships, but instances like that referred to in Rushville may be found on all hands even in the town or close by. Last spring the farm house north of town was vacated and during the summer almost every light was broken out of the windows, the well curb broken up and it and every loose board, stick or rock near were carried and thrown into the well, filling it up nearly 10 feet so that it cost about $7 to get it cleaned out. Other houses and wells about town were served in like manner. We have reason to believe that much of this work in those parts has been done by boys whose parents ought to know where they are and teach them that this sort of lawless disregard for other people's rights is only a stepping stone to other and greater crimes that will land some of them in the Penitentiary. It seems to us that a little wholesome discipline would help to correct some of these evils, and detract nothing from the good name of the community. Boys if your parents do not say anything to you about it, ask them if it is right before you break any more windows or throw stones at buildings.

—Lamb says he can't jubilate unless Sam Wood is elected to Congress. Poor Lamb. This is not the Lamb that Mary had. His back is supposed to be a different color.
—St. John's plurality over Glick in Phillips county is 259.
—"It Might Have Been."
Thus your friends will sing as they watch your life flickering out with that dread disease Dyspepsia; stay its ravages by using at once Brown's Peppin Tonic. Remember! Delays are dangerous.
—Wonderful Without Number
Are the cures recorded by the use of Brown's Arnica Salve. Not a family in America but should keep a remedy for burns, cuts, bruises, old sores and inflamed sore eyes always in the house. The Brown Medicine Co. warrant every Box of Brown's Arnica Salve.

—Dave Clark is the happiest man in Kansas, and wishes there was more of him so he could smile louder.

—H. Kronheimer is visible on our streets occasionally. If you want to be insured he is your man. We have no doubt that he shares Dave Clark's enthusiasm.

—Dr. Hook thinks he would like to prescribe for some of our disaffected Republicans. Give us all some, Dr., we will pay for it in 1884, or words to that effect.

—Jackson Taylor will continue to supply your wants in the grocery and dry goods line, south side public square, one door west of the Central House.

—Sam McElroy thinks he was made a fool of by the election, but he is bigger than Lamb already.

—We are glad to learn that young Mr. Colby's injuries from getting caught in a broom corn machine, were not so serious as first reported, and that he will not lose any part of his arm.

—John Robinson and wife, of Glenwood, had a narrow escape from death a few days ago while going home from Phillipsburg. At Big Creek crossing, near J. W. Roach's place, the wagon heaped and lay on its side, and the driver, both men, both horses, were hurt but not killed. As it was no serious damage was done.

—We delay this issue of the HERALD one day in order to get reliable news of the elections, feeling that our readers would be disappointed if we published one day later, under the circumstances, than have it on time without the news which at best can only show results. Next week we will give a tabular statement of vote of county by townships.

—Dave Clark is perceptibly larger since he has heard from the election returns, and it would be dangerous for the G. B. to attempt to swallow him now, even if he was graced, but he thinks he could swallow Lamb, and that is simply a relic of barbarism, and giving to the innocents the graceful appearance of miniature juggernauts. In school they may not rest their elbows on the desk—I don't see why elbows are omitted on the program—because our good steel "order" would become restive and run away. A look, however, heavy, and be the little fingers never so weak and tired, may be held in but one hand and that the weaker one. Every natural impulse to stir, to change position and so get temporary relief from the inevitable cramp and ache, is religiously held in by the check-rod of this mechanical quadruped.

—Now that the election is over would it not be well to look after our public library a little better. We fear that our people are losing sight of this important enterprise. Would it not be well to make arrangements for some kind of an entertainment for the benefit of the Library? What say you, "A. Lewis and Snodgrass"? Let us hear from you.

—The Presbyterian concert at the Court House Wednesday evening was a success and was favored with a full house. Mrs. Rogers deserves great credit for her efforts to raise funds to complete their church and furnish a pleasant entertainment for our people. We hear many expressions of agreeable surprise at the success of every performance. It is certainly good discipline for the young people.

NOTICE.

There will be a Teachers examination at the School House in Phillipsburg on Saturday, Nov. 11th, 1882, commencing at 10 o'clock a. m. Parties who are not supplied with certificates and wish to teach in the county this coming winter will please be present and write up the examination. Respectfully,
C. A. LEWIS, Supt.

SCHOOL-ROOM HOBBIES.

The riding of these steeds must constitute a very pleasant and beneficial exercise, as the practice is so common even among those who stand highest in our profession. Hence, a glance at the pedigree and record of some of the more famous ungs may not be amiss.

Prominent among those trotted out at Teacher's institutes and associations and advertised with a long list of desirable qualities is the ancient one of order—more generally known and revered in the 19th century than it will be in any succeeding one—as it has been such long and hard usage that its skeleton has become so conspicuous as to be unsightly and repulsive. Some teachers have this antiquated hobby so completely under their control that not a child may dare occupy any other position than that prescribed, be it ever so unnatural and conducive of lung and spinal difficulties. If they are allowed to play at all during their recess—and there's only one chance in ten that they will be—they must not run for that would not be "orderly"; they must not about for the same sage reason; they may march, perchance, if they keep in line, "toe out, hold up your head, and fold your arms"; and that last command, as generally obeyed, is simply a relic of barbarism, and giving to the innocents the graceful appearance of miniature juggernauts. In school they may not rest their elbows on the desk—I don't see why elbows are omitted on the program—because our good steel "order" would become restive and run away. A look, however, heavy, and be the little fingers never so weak and tired, may be held in but one hand and that the weaker one. Every natural impulse to stir, to change position and so get temporary relief from the inevitable cramp and ache, is religiously held in by the check-rod of this mechanical quadruped.

In the next stall we shall find an exhibition another old beast named "Dignity," whose stately trappings are most affected by the juvenile portion of this profession.

After a man or woman has been engaged for a period of twenty or thirty years in teaching "the young idiots how to shout"—beg your pardon! I certainly meant to give that time honored quotation about "the young idea," etc.—they have learned among other important lessons, that the dignity which requires belaboring is only a sham and that there may be things of infinitely greater consequence to every teacher than his own dignity. But the adolescent teacher as a rule has paid dearly for his hobby in the first place, and knowing the vast uncertainty of the equine race, does all he can to retain possession of it—even at the expense, sometimes, of common sense. Laugh in school? why, bless you! not! A thousand times no! It would compromise his dignity too greatly, and so be the occasion never so worthy, he nares the hold back, and a grand opportunity to get nearer to some child's heart is lost for the sake of his dignity!

Never mind, he will wake up some morning only to find that he has forgotten to lock the stable door and his favorite hobby has gone; but somehow he will become reconciled to the loss, and will finally laugh that he placed so great dependence on Dignity to advance him over the road to success.

Our catalogue shows the next hobby to be equally caparisoned, and bearing the euphonious name of "Parade" and Examination. This poor and much abused nag is full of defects and is both halt and blind, but with efforts worthy of a better cause, its owner seeks to conceal the knowledge of any of those blemishes from the prying eyes of a too inquisitive public.

His pupils are "trained to make a good show," but it is lamentably true that they are at the same time learning lessons in deceit, dishonesty, vanity, or if keen observers in cynicism. The possessors of this showy hobby ignore the fact that "Thou must to thyself be true, if thou the truth wouldst teach," and ere long they too, will find themselves without a trotter, for he'll die of his own diseases that were deftly hidden, but never cured. The next nag to which our attention is called is the untamable one, "Lecturing." Teachers who ride this hobby are generally those who fancy themselves a second Demosthenes or Cicero in eloquence, but whom an unkind fate has cruelly consigned to the treadmill life of a pedagogue; so they mount their steed and amble up and down the stage on every possible occasion, never caring if the nag proves balky, and they are thrown with more of speed than grace or dignity—they are soon ready for another ride. We would recommend the owners of this steed to auction him off to the highest bidder, for though most excellent in some places, we have no use for him among teachers, the average pupil of to-day being more easily influenced by example than by multiplicity of words.

Last, but not least in this collection of hobbies is the vicious, fiery-eyed "Discipline," an excellent roadster, but a poor pack-horse—desirable, very, in competent hands, but dangerous in the keeping of any but an expert who knows just how much and how little he need to be used (for if used too much he makes a tyrant of his owner; it is too little, a tool. The owner must also know just when he needs exhibiting—for there is an eternal fitness of time, as well as opportunity, and if this hobby is too frequently called out, especially in public the unhappy owner becomes infinitely vain of the performance that is either stable and flat to the spectators, or the object of just indignation and censure.

Of course no reader of the teacher's column rides any of these hobbies, but, perhaps, you may know some pugna teacher, away on the outskirts, whose pathway has never been illuminated by the light from his columns, on whom these lines may not be entirely thrown away, though of course they are not intended for you, dear reader, oh! except to incite you to a little self-examination.

By LUCY A. YENDES, in "TEACHERS' INSTITUTE."

—Wanted, a teacher in Rushville township, school district No. 64. Will pay $10 per month, for three months. Board can be had for from $1.25 to $1.50 per week.
C. C. MCMAHON, Director.

CORRESPONDENCE.

MYRTLE, Phillips Co., Kan.
EDITOR HERALD:—We have not seen anything lately in your paper from Walnut, perhaps you will give space for an item. Farmers whose business is most important here have their fall seedling all done and potatoes nearly all up.

In the political field everything is unusually quiet and harmonious. For this state of things we give credit to the much abused politician—candidates for office. Several of these gentlemen have held meetings and made speeches in the last two weeks. The social element, too, seems to have been benefited thereby.

The residents of the localities vulgarly called carb other opprobrious epithets, have settled their differences and are now smoking the "pipe of peace," which is very gratifying to their neighbors.

An incident occurred on Saturday night which may serve to put the traveling people on their guard. The temperance people on their way to their place of meeting encountered a rope stretched across the road and tied to trees on either side. By chance what might have been a serious accident was averted. Two horseback riders ran against the rope but sustained no serious injury. Just behind them was a team of fractious horses with a driver and a passenger. It was lucky that the horses were so tame and obedient that they did not start. The driver, a man named J. B. Davis, of Phillipsburg, was not injured. The horses were not usually infested rural districts.

RUSHVILLE, Kan., Nov. 7, 82.
Married, at the residence of the bride's parents, in this township, Sunday, October 29th, Harry Gingles and Miss R. Vanhorn. From some cause a quire could not be procured, but Miss Gingles came biddly to the rescue, and officiated admirably. Mr. Gingles is an industrious farmer and his young wife handsome and intelligent. They are heartily congratulated by their many friends.

Also Mr. Frank McElroy and Miss Sharp, the week before, in Nebraska, and already housekeeping, we understand.

Mr. Conner's family have gone to Nebraska to spend the winter. A week had not passed until some scoundrel went into their house and demolished all they had left and made their house uninhabitable, and further on arrived Mr. Raymond's the same way and turned out a barrel of molasses for them. One of our justices claims to have a clue and if he does not follow it up he will give great disappointment.

Some of our farmers are going away for the winter, but some who had in a crop of all kinds.

The fall grain looks well and there is any amount of it.
